

BELARUSIAN UNIVERSAL COMMODITY EXCHANGE

Belarusian Universal Commodity Exchange (BUCE) is the only commodity exchange in the Republic of Belarus and one of the largest spot exchanges in Eastern Europe, which is primarily focused on the spot market (all transactions are fulfilled with actual delivery of commodities to the buyers).

All trading sessions are held in electronic form via Internet, which enables a sustainable growth of exchange turnover, a steady inflow of clients and gradual expansion of the client geography.

At the present moment client base of BUCE counts more than 24 000 companies, including 4 700 foreign participants from 63 countries, which in total annually conclude transactions of more than 2 billion EURO.

BUCE trading commodities

- 1. Metal products. Ferrous metals (over 400 thousand tons a year, 20% of the entire national market), non-ferrous metals (about 20 thousand tons), coal (about 40 thousand tons), coke (more than 20 thousand tons), electrical products.
- 2. Agricultural products. Casein, milk powder, butter, cheese, cottage cheese, rapeseed oil, flour, cereals, hides of cattle, cattle meat and pork, sugar and salt.
- 3. Timber. Round wood, pulp wood, sawn wood, plywood, chipboard, fiberboard, paper, pellets, fuel briquettes and chips.
- 4. Industrial and consumer goods. The electronic subsystem of auctions with industrial and consumer goods works on-line around the clock and allows to sell and buy goods of the widest range from anywhere in the world via the Internet, both with the help of a special purpose software or an interface of an Internet browser. A distinctive feature of this trading subsystem is a possibility to place additional textual and graphical information about the product in the application.

The list of commodities eligible for trading at the exchange encompasses some 3000 commodity items.

BUCE operation principles

Currently, exchange and electronic auctions are conducted electronically through specially designed trading subsystems, including the use of the remote access of traders to the BUCE trading system via the Internet.

The right to trade at BUCE belongs to legal entities, who are residents and non-residents of the Republic of Belarus.

Trading is anonymous. In case of a transaction, parties get contact information of each other, conclude contract and register it at BUCE within the prescribed period. In case if one of the parties refuses to conclude a transaction, it incurs sanctions established by BUCE rules.

Parties shall pay the exchange fee upon the conclusion of a transaction equal to 0.1-0.5% of the amount of the transaction, depending on the trading platform.

Companies are entitled to trade on their own as participants of exchange trades (after their accreditation) or use the services of authorized brokers.

BUCE auctions with metal, timber, agricultural products

Exchange auctions in the sections of metal, timber, agricultural products are carried out in strict accordance with the Rules of the exchange trade and Regulations of exchange auctions in the relevant section according to the scheduled auctions with goods included in the List of goods admitted to the exchange trade.

To be able to participate in the auctions via the remote access one must install special software that is downloaded free of charge from the website by accredited participants of exchange auctions.

Section of industrial and consumer goods

Along with organization of traditional electronic exchange auctions in the sections (product groups) of metal, timber and agricultural products there is a section of industrial and consumer goods.

Electronic subsystem of auctions with industrial and consumer goods works on-line around the clock and allows to sell and buy goods of the widest range from anywhere in the world where there is the Internet, both with the help of a special purpose software or an interface of an Internet browser.

A distinctive feature of this trading subsystem is a possibility to place additional textual and graphical information about the product in the application.

Electronic auctions for public procurement

Belarusian legislation stipulates mandatory use of electronic auctions for public procurement (E-procurement), as well as purchases at their own expense by state enterprises with majority of goods (works, services). One of the operators of electronic trading platforms that have right to conduct electronic auctions in the Republic of Belarus is BUCE.

Exchange brokers

Exchange brokers perform for their clients all necessary steps and procedures for participation in exchange auctions and conclusion of transactions. Exchange broker may conclude transactions:

on behalf of a client at broker's expense,
on behalf of a broker at client's expense,
on behalf of a client at client's expense.

Relationships between exchange brokers and BUCE are regulated with the exchange service contract. Relationships between exchange brokers and their clients are regulated with other contracts (contract of agency and etc.).

Analytics

For the purpose of effective monitoring and objective analysis of the situation on the exchange markets of the Republic of Belarus and abroad, the BUCE markets a number of information and analytical products that, due to the high concentration of supply and demand, reflect the market condition and provide guidance to market participants when they conclude transactions.

International cooperation

BUCE is a member of the International Association of Exchanges of the CIS Countries (IAE CIS) and the Association of Futures Markets (AFM), membership in which contributes to strengthening of international cooperation relations and empowerment of Belarusian companies to find prospective trade partners abroad and expand into new markets.

Branch offices and agencies abroad

BUCE has established its branch offices in all 6 districts of the Republic of Belarus. Foreign brokers of BUCE also work in Lithuania, Latvia, Ukraine, Poland, Uzbekistan, Turkey, Belgium, Hungary, Germany, China, Russia.
